

Speech Punctuation

Warm-Up

Punctuating Speech

Let's have a go at correctly punctuating speech.

If we were punctuating Josh's speech, it would say:

Punctuation Reporting clause

“I'm really struggling to walk,” explained Josh.

Inverted Commas

There are two places where inverted commas are needed when writing direct speech:

“I’m really struggling to walk,” explained Josh.

Inverted commas

Inverted commas

You need to open your inverted commas with a “ (66) before the first word which is being spoken.

You need to close your inverted commas with a ” (99) after the last word which is being spoken.

Imagine that inverted commas are like hands; they hold within them only the words which are being spoken.

“I’m really struggling to walk,” explained Josh.

Punctuation

There are two places where other forms of punctuation are needed when writing direct speech:

“I’m really struggling to walk,” explained Josh.

You need to end the speaking with either:

- A comma
- A question mark, if it is a question
- An exclamation mark, if it is an exclamation

You need to finish your sentence with a full stop after the reporting clause.

“How exciting!” exclaimed Sarah.

“Is your favourite drink lemonade?” enquired Chad.

“I don’t know what to do,” said Sayeed.

Reporting Clauses

Accompanying the speech is a reporting clause, which gives a little bit of information about who is speaking and how it was said.

“I’m really struggling to walk,” explained Josh.

Reporting clause:
In this case, Josh is speaking.

If Josh said it in a different way, you could change ‘explained’ to...

“I’m really struggling to walk,” claimed Josh.

“I’m really struggling to walk,” disclosed Josh.

“I’m really struggling to walk,” whispered Josh.

“I’m really struggling to walk,” cried Josh.

Punctuating Speech

Sometimes, the reporting clause can appear before the speech. The same punctuation rules apply.

If the reporting clause came before the speech, Matthew's reply could read:

Examples of Correctly Punctuated Speech

Below are all examples of correctly punctuated speech. Tell an adult or sibling why they are correct. However, one is wrong. Which one and why?

1. The conductor bellowed, "Sit down!"
2. "Can I have ketchup with my chips?" asked Gina.
3. The referee blew the whistle and shouted. "Time's up,
4. "Please stop annoying me!" pleaded Fred.
5. "It's all the money I have left," explained Mary.
6. Benjamin yelled, "Over here!"

Froggy Freeze Frame

You have two minutes to write two pieces of speech which could be happening in this picture. One sentence must have the reporting clause before the speech, the other must have it after.

Mix and Match

Choose one piece of direct speech, one reporting clause and one extra detail. How many different sentences can you write? Make sure that you punctuate them correctly.

Direct Speech	Reporting Clause	Extra Detail
I want to go home.	said Maureen	angrily
That's disgusting!	asked Frank	at midnight
How much is it?	the little girl asked	whilst holding a key
No.	she exclaimed	jokingly
Let me have a look.	he roared	urgently
Can I see the doctor?	Hattie replied	at 4 p.m.
